THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

CIO Conference Demand

Washington, Aug. 6. A SOMEWHAT preemptory demand has been made upon President Truman to call a labor-management conference. This comes from two sources—one, the CIO bosses; the other, a committee of New York "liberals" with distinct CIO leanings. The first wants the conference because, they say, the workman needs "protection" against the rising prices; the second, insists it is necessary because of another grave labor-management crisis that looms.

THE best information is that the President will call no such conference—and for a very sound reason—to wit, his experience with the labor-management conference which he called last year. That was a complete flop, distinguished chiefly by the vituperative squabbling among the rival labor lobbyists and by their vitriolic and demagogic attacks upon the employers. It was clear from the start that the conference was going to get nowhere and that the labor bosses, with their strike schedules already made up, had no idea it would.

THEIR obvious plan was to use it as a sounding board for their spokesmen and press agents. Being much better equipped and more adroit in propaganda methods than the industrialists, they made more "news" and had all the best of the conference publicity. After it was over they proceeded with their original "strategy," and the nation, at a time when production was most essential, was afflicted with a virtual epidemic of strikes in all parts of the country, many of them without real justification. In the larger of these they were tremendously aided by the 15-cent-an-hour increase in wages laid down as a national pattern by the White House, by the fallacious statistics put out by Mr. Henry Wallace and by the active co-operation of a Labor Department in which former CIO officials are heavily represented. As a result of the rise in wages, thus governmentally forced, there was an inevitable rise in prices, which the CIO professionals and their "liberal" sympathizers are now engaged in attributing to the emasculation of the OPA Act, though every clear-headed and candid man perfectly well knows that with a general wage advance such as this, prices were bound to go up no matter what was put in or taken out of the OPA Act.

NOW, charging that the cost of living has gone up 40 per cent in the last two months (whereas the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics shows it has been less than 7 per cent), the CIO is insisting that wages must again go up and the more violent of the professional forecast another wave of strikes. However, one of the CIO's journalistic interpreters states that there is some reluctance among the

Cooperative Firm Buys A Farm Near Lakewood

Bristol Machine Tool Co., co-operative enterprise located on Wood street, announces the purchase of a 7½ acre farm at Lakewood, N. J.

The farm is now being operated by the co-operative, with produce sold to co-operative members at cost, the plan being to sell the surplus on the open market. Any profits derived, it is announced, will be turned back to the company.

The farm contains an orchard and grove, with 60 fruit and nut trees in all. General garden crops, such as corn, tomatoes, lima beans, string beans, beets, etc., are growing there now, and the members look forward also to the grape harvest. Next year it is planned to utilize every portion of the acreage.

Landreth Bldg. On Canal Street Offered For Sale

The large stone building on Canal street, occupied since World War I by D. Landreth Seed Co., is being offered for sale by that firm.

If and when the sale is negotiated, the Landreth firm plans to remove its business to Philadelphia, due to the fact that the firm deems that city "more convenient for shipping purposes."

The three-story structure contains 100,000 square feet of floor space, and houses the offices and warehouse of the Landreth company.

Previous to occupying this structure the Landreth Co. was located at the Bloomsdale Farms, which property it still operates. An official of the firm announced today that if the building on Canal street is sold and the firm moves to Philadelphia, the Bloomsdale tract will continue to be operated by the Landreth firm.

On the 5th of April the large, 139-year-old stone barn at Bloomsdale Farm, was gutted by fire. The loss of the building at the experimental farm included the $25,000 building, and contents estimated at $10,000.

A site in under consideration in Philadelphia, should the sale locally be consummated.

The Landreth firm was established in 1784 and has been processing and shipping seeds from Bristol since 1847.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The delegations at the Paris peace conference divided into two camps yesterday, one headed by Russia and her satellites and the other by Britain and the United States, over the issue of how large a majority must be required to adopt recommendations to the Big Four. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov sharply criticized the proponents of a majority vote, asserting the British and Americans favored such a procedure because they could control 13 of the 21 votes. He warned that this "playing with votes" might lead to "disastrous consequences."

Pietro Nenni, Minister without Portfolio in the Italian Cabinet, said Italy would not sign the peace treaty unless it was modified to include her minimum demands—enlargement of the international zone around Trieste, postponement of the colonial issue without jeopardizing Italy's claim to her colonies and improvement of conditions under which she will get electric power near Briga and Tenda.

Czechoslovakia will ask the conference to amend the draft of the Hungarian treaty to authorize the transfer of an additional 200,000 Hungarians from Slovakia in exchange for an equal number of Slovaks from Hungary.

In London, wide divergence of opinion, particularly between the United States and several European delegations, developed at the international conference of religious leaders over the issue whether churches should set up a commission through which to wield organized influence in world politics.

President Truman has informed the British Government that he is unfavorably impressed with the plan to split Palestine into four provinces.

Any British attempt to prevent the landing of refugees now aboard ships in Haifa harbor would be "resisted" and would "wreck for a long time any hope of reconciliation" between the British administration and the Jewish community in Palestine, a spokesman for the Jewish agency for Palestine said.

Reports from China that the United States was planning to withdraw its marines from that country were emphatically denied by a State Department spokesman.

A floating drydock, damaged in the recent atomic bomb test, sank at Bikini. Admiral Blandy likened atomic bombing to "poison warfare."

Miss Claire Clara Alexander, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Francis John Leach, Baltimore, Md., were united in marriage in Newport Road Community Chapel on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. Pastor Edwin Thomas officiated.

The bride, a former resident of West Bristol, had as her attendants her sister, Mrs. Janet Amata, and Miss June Barrett, Philadelphia. Mr. William Amata and Mr. William Monroe, both of Philadelphia, attended the groom. The former Miss Alexander was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Elwood Alexander, Philadelphia.

Miss Edwina Thomas, Cornwells Heights, the vocalist, was accompanied by Miss Margaret Zobel, pianist.

A reception for 75 guests was held at the home of the bride, 128 E. Richmond street, Philadelphia.

NAMEE GIVEN VERDICT IN FIGHT WITH GIBSON

All Three Officials Agree, Although the Crowd Favored Gibson

SCORE: 6 ROUNDS TO 2

In another thrill-packed fight, Pancho Namee, of Philadelphia, defeated Larry Gibson, former Golden Glover from Trenton, in the eight-round windup at the St. Ann's A. A. arena last night.

It was the second meeting of the pair, with the first contest ending in a draw. In last night's contest, Namee won the verdict of the three officials, although the crowd seemed to be with Gibson.

A final tabulation of the score sheets showed that Judge Bert Crowther gave six rounds to Namee and two to Gibson. Judge Charlie Ubele and Referee Joe Sweeney both gave four rounds to Namee, three to Gibson, and called one even.

There was no doubt that Gibson landed the harder blows in the fight but did not land them often enough. He seemed to carry the last two rounds by piling up a wide margin in the early parts of the session but he would give all he had for the first one and coast the remaining two minutes.

Several times in the last two rounds, the gladiators stood in the center of the ring and traded blow for blow. Gibson got in several hard blows to the mid-section, but the harder he was hit the more Namee would fight back. He would throw out his mouthpiece and start swinging with both hands.

Gibson fought the second round with a cut over his right eye, and at the start of each session Namee would make this his target so that blood would flow and half blind the Trenton boy.

Namee's best session was the second. In this round he twice shook Gibson with body blows which slowed up the Jersey boy for the next four cantos which went to Namee's side of the score-card. In the sixth round Namee again let his opponent have a series of rights and lefts while holding him against the ropes.

HOW TO CUT TAXES

A significant letter showing how the American people can obtain a 20 per cent reduction in the Federal taxes they will pay next year has recently been made public.

The letter is from Congressman Harold Knutson, Minnesota Republican. Mr. Knutson is one of the highest ranking Republican members of Congress, and probably will become chairman of the important Ways and Means Committee if the House is reorganized under a Republican majority next January.

His statements on tax measures, therefore, have special weight. Replying to a letter from a constituent, who called attention to the White House opposition to any tax cuts for 1947, and who asked whether this meant no hope for tax relief existed, the Congressman put the matter in a nutshell:

"IF THE TAXPAYERS ELECT A REPUBLICAN HOUSE IN NOVEMBER THEY WILL BE VOTING THEMSELVES A 20 PER CENT CUT IN PERSONAL INCOME TAXES FOR 1947."

Other consumer taxes would be reduced in like amount, he added, and the cuts would also mean a 20 per cent drop in the amount being withheld from pay envelopes.

Behind this statement is more than merely the opinion and the promise of a Republican who stands high in the councils of his party.

It is a definite tax-cut commitment from a man who, in the event of a Republican victory this fall, will have a great deal to say about carrying out the Republican program. Moreover, he is a legislative leader in the Federal body which has the greatest authority over tax matters—the Lower House of Congress, where tax measures must originate.

In addition, Congressman Knutson has a definite picture in mind of exactly how the national budget can be balanced and the tax reductions put into effect:

OPA Boosts Prices On Food Items

Increases in ceiling prices ranging from one to five cents, on 10 food items were announced yesterday by the OPA.

The new prices are effective only in independent (Group 1 and 2) food stores in Philadelphia, Delaware, Bucks, Chester and Montgomery counties, Frank J. Loftus, OPA district director, stated.

A similar list of increases for chain stores and super markets will become effective Saturday.

Affected by the new prices are: Sugar, one cent more a pound on brown, powdered, 1X or granulated, except in five-pound bags, on which the increase is three cents.

Salmon: Alaska red, No. 1 tall can, all brands, five cents; chin, No. 1 tall can, all brands, four cents; Faust Sockeye, No. 1 half can, two cents; pink salmon, No. 1 tall or flat can, all brands, three cents.

Peanut butter: Two cents on both eight and 16-ounce glasses of a popular brand.

The increases in retail prices are due to increases granted to processors, packers or canners, Loftus said.

Ceiling prices were re-established at June 30 levels on 185 dry groceries and related items. Lists fixing maximum prices have been sent to all stores and must be posted.

The list sets prices on 19 kinds of baby foods, seven kinds and sizes of cocoa, 12 kinds of crackers, 21 brands and sizes of canned fish, 55 brands and sizes of canned fruits, nine canned fruit juices, seven brands of honey.

Also included are nine brands and sizes of peanut butter, five brands of pudding mixes, four canned soups, sugar of various kinds and weights, five brands of syrups and molasses, 14 brands and sizes of tea and 26 canned and dried vegetables.

Spanish-American War Veteran Dies in Phila.

NESHAMINY FALLS, Aug. 6.—A veteran of the Spanish-American War, John Layton Hartrant, 70, died on Sunday in the U. S. Naval Hospital, Philadelphia. Mr. Hartrant was a member of Camp 61, United Spanish-American War Veterans, Philadelphia, and was affiliated with Underdown Assembly of Artisans.

He is survived by a brother, Morton Hartrant, of Oncontia, N. Y. The deceased had resided here for 25 years.

The Rev. William Heist, pastor of South Langhorne Lutheran Church, will conduct the service at the Harner funeral home, Langhorne, on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Burial will occur on Thursday at E. Wildwood Cemetery, Williamsport.

NEW TYPE WRENCH TO BE PRODUCED HERE

Cooperative Firm Will Fill Orders For Open-End Ratchet Wrench

BUCKS CO. INVENTOR

The recently-invented open end ratchet wrench, which it was announced several weeks ago had been perfected by George Logan, of New Hope, is to be produced locally.

The new type wrench, which utilized leverage to an advantage, is to be produced in quantity, it is stated, at the co-operative plant of Bristol Machine Tool Co.

The co-operative firm will make 12 working models of the wrench and any drawings involved. Mr. Logan plans to secure orders for the same, with orders filled by the Machine Tool Co. in accordance with terms of a contract drawn up between Logan and the local firm.

Mr. Logan explains that the wrench can be used "any place that an ordinary open end wrench can be used, with added advantages. Because the jaws close slightly smaller than the size for which it is to be used, together with the compound leverage, it is possible to secure a firm grip. Because the jaws open wider than the nut for which it is being used, it is possible to ratchet or to take succeeding grips on the nut without removing the wrench. The wrench has a double-broached jaw, and this makes it possible to get 'twelfth' grips. The wrench can be used in limited space."

Logan was employed by the U. S. Navy, he being stationed for a time in the Aeronautical Engine Laboratory, Naval Air Station, Philadelphia Navy Yard. He was transferred to Johnsonville when the navy took over the aircraft plant there.

British Cabinet Considers Palestine Situation

London—Britain's Cabinet was summoned to a special meeting today to review the Palestine situation because of wide opposition to the government's plan for a four-way division of the Holy Land.

Informed observers said the Cabinet will also discuss immigration to Palestine, where Jewish extremists have threatened to take direct action to disembark hundreds of refugees aboard ships at Haifa.

38 Injured in Chicago Bus Accident

Chicago—Thirty-eight persons were reported recovering today from injuries suffered when a Greyhound bus skidded on wet pavement, plunged down a six-foot embankment and overturned on a Jackson Park beach in Chicago.

Near panic broke out among the 40 passengers trapped in the vehicle last night. They feared the outbreak of fire when gasoline spilled from the fuel tank and drenched the bus.

Charges Molotov Insists on Big-4 Power Control

Paris—U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes charged today that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov has attempted for a year to limit small power participation in the writing of peace treaties.

Byrnes spoke angrily on Molotov's alleged insistence for Big Four control over virtually every move of the conference but his violent words seemed to have little immediate effect upon the Soviet Minister.

Byrnes had scarcely concluded his statement when Molotov arose and proceeded calmly to reiterate his earlier statement that the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers should draft the procedure and recommendations for the general peace conference.

An American source explained that Byrnes launched his outspoken attack because "there have been so many insinuations tossed our way by Molotov."

A spokesman for the British delegation said he was confident that two-thirds of the nations would support the compromise proposal on the voting issue.

Miscellaneous Gifts Are Given To Miss Mancini

A miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Mary Mancini, Pond street, Friday evening, by her attendants-to-be, the Misses Margaret Giagnacova, Louise Capella, Eva Clotti, Bristol, and Jean Pilla, Trenton, N. J.

The affair was a surprise to the guest of honor and it was held in St. Ann's club room, Wood street. The decorations were pink and white. The gifts were arranged beneath a sprinkling can. The evening was enjoyed dancing and refreshments were served buffet style.

Others present: Mrs. Sasso Benicivengo, Mrs. Joseph Chino, Mrs. Anna Pilla, Miss Ruth Pilla, Mrs. Lucy Frascella, Trenton, N. INSTALLING HUGE PRESS AT FLEETWINGS

Machine To Be Used In Stamping Out Parts For Kaiser Automobile

OTHER EQUIPMENT

Erection of a press even larger than the one recently installed at Fleetwings is expected to get underway soon. The foundation has been completed.

The 2,500-ton press will tower 37 feet high as compared to 26 feet 8½ inches which is the measurement of the press installed in May. The base is 12 feet underground.

The press is to be used for operations on inner and outer skins of 50,000 aluminum deck lids for the Kaiser Special automobile. It is announced in the publication of Fleetwings which is a division of Kaiser Cargo, Inc.

The Tool and Die Department is to be moved from the south end of the Plant 1 factory building to permit the entire southwest section to be used as a press shop. In addition to presses, brakes and shears already in the Press Shop, nine Bliss presses are now in the building waiting to be set up and new brakes and shears have been purchased.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Klerman (Distributed by International News Service)

Congress will not return until after the snow flies and there are indications that several members will be lost in the November blizzard.

But it's nice to know that right after Christmas, the season of peace, and New Year's, the season of hope, comes the new Congress and open season.

The new Congress will get higher pay . . . Mr. Truman felt there should be more money in the job and something should be done about it.

The Mead Committee, of course, already is working on the theory that something was done about it.

I don't know just who will be back . . . the CIO now is preparing its list so we will know exactly who to vote for until the AFL list comes out.

I don't know how we ever got along in the days when we didn't have this expert advice . . . It's very fortunate for us that this country grew rich and great by accident.

FOUR NEW JOINT SCHOOL DISTRICTS START OPERATION

Durham-Springfield Is One of Most Recently Organized of Boards

COUNTY 'OUT FRONT'

County Sup't C. H. Boehm Foresees Formation of More Such Boards

Four recently created joint boards will start operation, when public schools in Bucks County open in September, Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of Bucks County schools, announces.

Announcement has been made of the recent formation of the Durham-Springfield Joint Board, which will operate the high school at Pleasant Valley, where Melvin G. Mack will be the supervising principal. Mr. Mack, during the past year, was principal of Springfield Township High School.

Newtown borough, Newtown township, Northampton, Wrightstown and Upper Makefield have combined in the formation of a joint board, which will operate what will be known as the Lower Bucks County Junior-Senior High School. The senior high school will be located in Newtown, and the junior high at Richboro. Norman W. Kratz has been named the high school principal and Raymond O. Gilbert the assistant principal. Mr. Kratz had charge of the Newtown schools last term, and Mr. Gilbert was principal at Richboro.

Langhorne Manor, Langhorne borough, Middletown township and Hulmeville borough have formed a joint board to succeed the Langhorne-Middletown Joint Board, and William A. Thomas has been appointed principal by the newly created board.

The creation of the Langhorne-Middletown Joint Elementary Board has also been announced, and Mr. Thomas will be in charge of the elementary school system also.

Commenting upon the formation of joint boards in the county, Mr. Boehm said the county is far in advance throughout the State in the formation of these boards, and it is likely other joint boards will be formed.

Two-thirds of the boards in the county, he said, are preparing to make physical improvements to the schools just as soon as the required material is available.

During the past year, according to Mr. Boehm, voters in various sections of the county have approved bond issues amounting to more than $800,000 for the consolidation of schools. It is likely, he said, voters will be called upon to pass on other bond issues in the Fall.

The Central Bucks County Joint School Board, which was organized recently, and of which Frank Trembley, Doylestown township, is the president, is progressing, and it has been expanded to include ten districts. At the time of its organization, several weeks ago, there were nine districts, and since that time Dablin borough has been added.

Mr. Boehm has announced a majority of the schools in the county will begin the new term on Wednesday, September 4th.

FOUR RUNS IN FIRST WINS FOR ROHM & HAAS

Four runs in the first inning gave the Rohm and Haas nine a 6-5 triumph over the Bristol Legion last evening on the Maple Beach field. "Len" Simons pitched the chemical makers to the triumph, holding the Legionnaires to five hits. He had to be effective in the pinches for his mates erred seven times.

ST. ANN'S TO PLAY AT BURLINGTON TOMORROW

St. Ann's A. A., winner of the regular season championship of the Bristol Suburban League, will play Burlington A. A., leaders of the Burlington County League, tomorrow night under the lights on the Burlington High School diamond. Game will begin at nine o'clock.

St. Ann's clinched the Suburban League crown last week and to date has won 34 games. It has been beaten four times. Burlington has a record as good as the "Saints."

Both teams will use its strongest lineup in the tilt. It is most likely that Danny Keegan will toss them up for St. Ann's, with Barney Ludwig behind the plate. "Slim" Miller will throw them for Burlington, with "Fats" Costello as his battery mate.

An interesting fact of the tilt will be that Keegan hails from Burlington but confines most of his playing to this side of the river.

The Burlington team will also be celebrating "Heck" Sholl night, honoring the manager of the Burlington aggregation.

Cornwells Plays Tie Game With Eddington

Cornwells and Eddington each had their big innings as the two clubs battled "tooth-and-nail" in a game that eventually ended up in a Church Softball League skirmish on the Bristol Township Jr. High 12-12 deadlock in a Lower Bucks School Field last night. In the other league tilt, Calvary won over the Church of Our Saviour, 11-2, in a game played under protest by the losers.

As the score indicates, Cornwells and Eddington put on a real slug-ging match. And leading the attack for Cornwells were Bernie Reif and Russ Jones. Both had three hits. Jones also drove over 4 runs and crossed twice himself, while Reif chased over 2 counters, and tallied three times himself. Among Jones' collection of hits was a home run with one on in the second while Reif collected a triple in the big 6-run rally by Cornwells in the 4th.

George "Corky" Sperling led the offensive for Eddington-Newport with a triple and two doubles, plus a walk. He drove in two runs with his triple in the 3rd; and smashed over three more with two consecutive doubles in the 4th and 5th frames. He also scored twice. His triple was the feature of Newport's 7-run rally in the third in which Bob Cameron also doubled and Everett Headley singled and doubled. Dave Hincheliff also had 3 hits and scored 3 runs for Eddington-Newport. Cornwells scored its tying run in the 7th on "Pop" Poston's single.

Calvary scored its victory mainly on the strength of a 7-run third inning during which the ultimate winners batted around on 3 hits, a walk, two fielder's choices, and five errors by the losers which accounted for all the runs being unearned. The highlight of this frame was consecutive home runs by Elwood Dyer and Harry Emy; the former's coming with two mates on the run-ways. Dyer also led Calvary at bat with three singles besides his homer. He drove in five runs and scored twice himself.
